

As you know Sinclair Broadcasting is requiring its local stations to preempt scheduled programming and show "Stolen Honor" which is clearly a lengthy anti Kerry political advertisement. Since the broadcasting companies use the public airways free of charge and supposedly serve the public interest this seems to me to be incredibly arrogant and an outrageous disregard for honest programming. Is Sinclair going to next require its stations to preempt scheduling and show an anti Bush movie? I don't think so. I hope the FCC will move on this issue and keep some balance in the way OUR airways are used.

Thank you, Dorothy Ruby
